God sues Mary MacKillop for fraud

In a move that most Catholics have claimed “never actually happened”, noted theorised historical figure God has sued Saint Mary MacKillop for fraud, claiming that it was indeed himself that performed the miracles attributed to the recently canonised saint by the Catholic Church.

“I spent so much of my valuable time performing these miracles so people will hate me less, only to have this ‘MacKillop’ who’s been dead for a million years take credit for them,” God told religious reporters at a press conference that may or may not have been imaginary yesterday. “Honestly, how can any dead person, aside from Jesus, do anything other than decompose and stink up the place?”

When asked to comment on these allegations of fraud, Mary MacKillop said nothing, most likely because she’s dead.

Racist Bogans mourn the loss of Pauline Hanson

Hanson thinks about how nice it must have been to live in Nazi Germany.

As former leader of the One Nation party and current racist Bogan Pauline Hanson leaves Australia to steal jobs from hard working English people despite her anti immigration beliefs, many of her racist followers such as the Australian Bogan Alliance (more commonly known as the ABA) are trying to come to terms with the loss of their hero.

Darren “Daz” Lee, head of the ABA says Hanson is Australia’s greatest spiritual leader and that it just won’t be the same without her.

“Its like we been robbed by a bajillion little asians! [sic]” Lee posted on his website fuckoffwerefull.org.au.

Many other pro-racism groups have tried more drastic measures to keep their idol in the same country as they are, such as mass suicides and protests.

When asked to comment on her feelings toward these mass Bogan suicides and protests, Hanson simply muttered something about “filthy foreigners” and walked off.
